PURPOSE OF CATALOG

The purpose of this catalog is to provide students with a general description of Clemson University and give detailed information regarding the various colleges and departments within the University and curricula offered by the University. Inasmuch as the educational process necessitates change, the information and educational requirements in this catalog represent a flexible program which may be altered where such alterations are thought to be in the mutual interest of the University and its students.

Each curriculum (Form GS2) shall be governed by the requirements in effect on the date of enrollment. If a student withdraws from the University and subsequently returns or does not remain continuously enrolled (summers excluded), the requirements in effect at the time of return will govern.

ORGANIZATION OF THIS PUBLICATION

The first 49 pages of the Graduate School Announcements describe the University, its academic and administrative officers, its fees and services and the Graduate School policies and procedures. Beginning on page 51 are the graduate programs and courses offered under the colleges of Agriculture, Forestry and Life Sciences; Architecture, Arts and Humanities; Business and Behavioral Science; Engineering and Science; Health, Education and Human Development; Graduate Interdisciplinary Programs; and the University Center of Greenville, S.C.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY

All colleges and departments establish certain academic requirements that must be met before a degree is granted. Advisors, department heads and deans are available to help the student understand and arrange to meet these requirements, but the student is responsible for fulfilling them. If, at the end of a student’s course of study, the requirements for graduation have not been satisfied, the degree will not be granted. For this reason, it is important for each student to acquaint himself or herself with all academic requirements throughout his or her graduate career and to be responsible for completing all such requirements within prescribed deadlines and time limits. Students registering at Clemson University accept and agree to abide by all published policies and regulations, including those which appear in this document, those published in any official University publication such as the Student Handbook and the Undergraduate Announcements, and those published on any official University Web site. Unless specifically noted otherwise, all policies and regulations apply equally to graduate students and undergraduate students.
